'UNDERGROUND' WINS ACCOLADE AWARD

Lancaster, England/October 27, 2007 --- 'Underground', produced by Intense Productions Ltd and written, directed and produced by Chee Keong Cheung, has won a prestigious Honorable Mention from the 2007 Accolade Competition, held in California, USA. The award was given in the Non-animation/Stunts category.

'Underground' tells the story of 12 fighters, brought together for an underground tournament to compete for the price of £500,000. They have been handpicked for a no-holds barred competition that will push each fighter to their limit. Each fighter has their own reason for competing, and each will give everything they've got to take the prize...but there can be only one winner.

The film stars Mark Strange ('Batman Begins', 'The Medallion'), Nathan Lewis, Joey Ansah ('Bourne Ultimatum'), and Danny John-Jules ('Blade II', 'Red Dwarf'), as well as a collective of some of the UK's hottest martial arts and stunt talent, including Zara Phythian, Leon Sua, Shane Steyn, Beau Fowler, William Mickleburgh, Scott Houston, Glenn Salvage, Liang Yang and Chris Smith.

The fights were arranged by Dave Forman, who's credits include Warner Bros. 'Batman Begins', 'Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles', and 'The Last Samurai'.

"Winning an Accolade is a real privilege" says writer and director Chee Keong Cheung. "This film would not have been possible without the commitment and talent of the team both in front and behind the camera, but particularly the fighters and performers who all executed their own stunts in the film, without the use of any doubles or wires."

The Accolade recognizes film, television and video professionals who demonstrate exceptional achievement in craft and creativity, and those who produce standout entertainment and compelling documentaries. The Accolade is an international awards competition in its fifth year, and is considered a top tier competition. It honours professionals, established and emerging, who demonstrate exceptional achievement in craft and creativity.

In winning an Accolade, Chee Keong Cheung and Intense Productions join the ranks of other high-profile winners of this internationally respected award.

'Underground' was also produced by Mark Strange, Oliver Morran of Intense Productions, and Andy Torkington of T-Tech Digital Media. The film was executive produced by Jim Howell and Simon Barnes of Park Entertainment ('Lawnmower Man', Ridley and Tony Scott's 'The Hunger', 'Bob the Butler'), Mike Leeder (Jet Li's 'Fearless', 'Rush Hour 3') and Chris Atkins ('Sixteen Years of Alcohol', 'Taking Liberties'). Worldwide sales on 'Underground' are handled by Park Entertainment.
