

Let Chee point you in the right direction
September 10 2003 - The Visitor

website: www.morecambetoday.co.uk

THE VISITOR. September 10, 2003

WEDNESDAY WEEK WEB

Give us your internet news
e-mail Michael Hill
at michael@hill.as

Keep informed on the latest internet news with Wednesday Week Web

Let Chee point you in the right direction

Film-maker Chee Keong Cheung

LANCASTER film director and producer Chee Keong Cheung has launched a new website.

Information about his film company, Intense Productions, can now be found by logging on to www.intense-productions.co.uk

It includes news on his upcoming high-profile multi-million pound feature films 'Dreams' and 'Where Love Reigns' and another project, the short dark comedy 'Crashing The Wake'.

The Visitor recently ran a feature on Chee and his blossoming career as one of the UK's most enterprising young film-makers.

Since then, Chee has asked for help in obtaining new material for his production company.

"We welcome collaborations from writers, directors, producers and other production companies in the UK and internationally," Chee explained.

"Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have a project, whether it's a feature, short, music video, documentary, corporate or commercial, which you would like to discuss with us at Intense Productions."

So if you have any ideas, try your chance with Intense Productions and contact Chee by e-mailing him at director@intense-productions.co.uk